MISSION EUROPE

I have lost count how many times I have returned to my old country since I immigrated to the USA in December of 1964; no doubt, at least a dozen times. Each visit has made me sadder than the last as I watch the United Kingdom slipping from God and, just as bad, being taken over by the Muslim Menace.

However, on my recent visit to the UK, there was a bright ray of sunshine inasmuch as I was able to baptize a Muslim lady. Security reasons prevent me from disclosing her name. Here is what happened.

A very good friend wanted me to help his brother-in-law's Muslim girlfriend. Miranda and I flew to London. We found this lady to be very intelligent. She told Miranda and me that she came from Bangladesh. At the age of 17, her father wanted her to marry an older man. She refused and he punished her by keeping her locked up in the house for three years. She was a prisoner and never once was allowed outside the home. She became very ill; her father became concerned and sent her to England for medical treatment. That was how she got her freedom.

Miranda and I spent the whole week counseling her and she was 100% in agreement, but she had a fear of telling her mother if she accepted Christ. I told S... that "one day she will appear before the Lord and He will ask the question, 'Did you consider your mother more important than me?'" I also read to her the scripture, "Anyone who loves his father or mother more than me is not worthy of me and anyone who does not take his cross and follow me is not worthy of me. Whoever finds his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life for my sake will find it." (Matthew 10:37-40)

There was a second problem (which was basically the reason I traveled to England): she was psychic. I have counseled many times to Christians who have this problem. She and her boyfriend believed that she may be demon possessed. She assured me that she had never been involved in the occult and hated her situation.

S... was no different from many Christian ladies I have counseled in the past 38 years. A person can be prone to psychic phenomena since we are not only flesh and blood, but also spirit. The fact being that we are made in the image of God. I fully believe that, not only could a person be tempted in the flesh, they could also be tempted in the spirit.

I encouraged S... never to listen or acknowledge these temptations. I also assured her that, when she repents and is baptized for the remission of her sins and lives a Godly life, she would then inherit the Kingdom of God.

S...'s situation was similar to the last lady I had counseled (Avalon) with whom I keep in touch. I recently phoned her and she said she was having no problems and is enjoying a wonderful fellowship in her church.

There are two basic reasons I am concerned with people who are psychic:

1. They may believe this is a gift from God and give readings either for profit or sincerely believe they are being used by God to help people from a Christian point of view.
2. If they have friends in the Charismatic movement,

S... came up out of the water smiling, and her demeanor changed completely. She was bubbling with excitement and exclaimed: "I AM FREE."

especially those in the so-called deliverance ministry, they would be given the belief they are demon possessed.

The Bible is clear in many scriptures that it is possible to practice divination. I am fully convinced that Satan takes advantage of these people. That is why I teach they must be on guard. We are under temptation and at war with Satan constantly. (Ephesians 6:12)

I spent most of my time with S..., explaining the problem she is facing. It won't necessarily go away. We are bombarded by negative thoughts often. However, as spirit-filled Christians, we are winning the war and will finally be victorious.

S... thought things over very carefully and, of her own free will, requested me to baptize her. Miranda helped with the baptism, as this was done in a bath tub in the home.

LONDON - SWITZERLAND - FRANCE - MISSION

The time teaching S..., the Muslim lady, was spent during the evenings when she came home from work. During the day we visited the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain where Miranda once worked as a secretary and I was a member. We went with A..., the friend of our newly converted Muslim lady.

Miranda and Ben sitting at the same table in the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain where we first met.

At the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain, we saw the picture of Abraham Lincoln and the newspaper article claiming him to be a Spiritualist. Miranda was assigned to get the newspaper article from the American Embassy in London. I do not believe Abraham Lincoln was involved in Spiritualism. I have no doubt it was his wife, Mary Todd Lincoln.

When Miranda was working at the SAGB, she went to the American Embassy to get the newspaper.

Another day, Miranda and I visited the church she was raised in: All Saints Church, Kingston-Upon-Thames, just outside London. The church is one thousand years old. Miranda's dad was treasurer. While there I met a young lady sitting in the pews reading the Bible. I asked her if she was a member of the church. She said she was a visitor. I told her about Miranda's dad. I then inquired where she worshipped. She replied she wasn't a Christian. I was surprised, seeing her reading the Bible. She then went on to say that she was not good enough to be a Christian. I replied that none of us are good enough, that is why Jesus died for our sins.

I then spoke to her about my testimony. After I finished speaking, her next statement surprised me. She told Miranda and me that, ten minutes before we came along, she had been "praying that she would meet a Spiritualist medium who converted to Christianity." The reason being that her biological parents were Spiritualists. She was also adopted by a Spiritualist couple. Talk about a divine appointment! At the time of this writing, I have sent her a book and am holding telephone conversations from here to the UK and discussing the Bible with her.

The following day I spoke on Premier Radio. This is a Christian station that reaches the whole of Great Britain and Europe. I finished the week speaking in two churches in London.

During my stay in the UK, I was perplexed at the amount of Mosques throughout the nation. I sense the Muslims are growing in population as well as taking control in government. Many Muslims are already representatives in the Houses of Parliament.

I also felt nervous while in London. There are knife gangs and, according to the "Sun" newspaper, one teenager a week is being murdered by knifings on the streets in Great Britain.

The next day Miranda and I flew to Geneva, Switzerland. I spoke on Wednesday and Sunday in an International church, comprised of several denominations. During our stay in Switzerland, Miranda and I drove to France and I spoke on Radio 74.

Our plane to Switzerland.

Our hosts in Switzerland, Brian and Veda Summers, were so generous with their hospitality.

... ten minutes before we came along, she had been "praying that she would meet a Spiritualist medium who converted to Christianity."

This is a French-speaking radio station that has an outreach in several countries in Europe.

God has blessed the Swiss people with some of the most beautiful scenery in the world. Regretfully, very few thank God for the blessings He has given them. Church attendance is at an all time low.

The Muslim religion is not recognized in Switzerland, but they are getting a toe-hold and have two Mosques -- one in Zurich and the other in Geneva. They tried to build Minarets, but this was rejected by the Swiss government. A Minaret is a high, slender tower, attached to a mosque from which a crier calls a person to worship.

FORT COLLINS, COLORADO

I visited Day Spring Christian Church in Fort Collins, Colorado. This was a great opportunity to meet Avalon, the psychic I led to the Lord last year. She is doing well and speaking in ladies' groups.

SAVANNAH - COASTAL COMMUNITY CAMP, GEORGIA

In Savannah I was able to spend a week with 50 high school campers and a dozen or so students from Florida Christian College. It was an uplifting experience and I enjoyed sharing the Gospel each evening.

I also had an opportunity to speak to a young lady who was concerned about some occult problems. I spent several hours discussing her problem. She finally realized her need.

Will Britain one day be Muslim?

by Ruth Dudley Edwards

This week has been another terrible one for those of us who want a society in which all races, religions and cultures mix to their mutual advantage and enrichment.

On Tuesday, five men were sentenced to live in prison for plotting to use a huge fertiliser bomb in what would have been the UK's largest mass murder.

Omer Khyam, Waheed Mahmood, Salahuddin Amin, Anthony Garcia and Jawad Akbar -- first and second generation immigrants -- responded to the tolerance of the British people by trying to kill as many of them as possible.

Is it absurd to hope that the exposure of their evil after a 13-month trial which cost an estimated £50 million has finally provided the wake-up call that the slumbering country so badly needs?

Or will we continue to allow the politically-correct lunatics to stay in charge of what is becoming an asylum?

I'm one of those old-fashioned immigrants to this country who feels passionately grateful, is proudly British (as well as Irish -- having been born in Dublin), and believes that immigrants have more duties than rights.

And, further, that one of those is to adjust to British society rather than expecting it to adjust to them.

However, one aspect of contemporary British society which I refuse to adjust to is its weakness in the face of the enemy within.

In my many conversations with like-minded people about the threat that radical Islam poses to the British way of life -- and, indeed, to European civilisation -- we frequently end by desparingly agreeing that the West seems intent on committing political and cultural suicide.

When we look starkly at the demographic statistics, the wimpishness of our Establishment in the face of the threat, the perversions perpetrated by political correctness and our own passivity, it's hard to avoid the conclusion that within a couple of generations, Islam will be in control in Europe.

And before anyone says that there would be nothing wrong if this happened, since the vast majority of Muslims are tolerant people who would not dream in interfering with our way of life, it's necessary to point out that in Muslim countries, it's usually the radicals and extremist mullahs -- who regard tolerance as a vice -- who make the running.

This occurs, too, in microcosm in Muslim ghettos around Europe; we saw the frightening fundamentalist fringe of Islam marching, threatening and perpetrating violence over the publication of cartoons depicting Mohammed in Denmark while the majority of Muslims -- who, yes, of course, are tolerant and decent -- kept their mouths shut and stayed at home.

Yes, Islam may be a great religion. But in its fundamentalist version, some of its values are antipathetic to ours, and if they triumph in Europe, they will threaten our values such as freedom of thought and speech and the spirit of intellectual inquiry that made European civilisation great and prosperous.

The danger of ending up like those poor, despotic and medieval Islamic states in which millions live miserably is a prospect that Christians, Hindus, moderate Muslims and non-believers should be uniting to prevent. But the truth is that we are doing little to stop it.

Muslims declare sovereignty over U.S., UK

Hear Islamic leaders in London: 'Queen Elizabeth, go to hell!';

by Art Moore

Across town from the site of the recent attempted car-bomb attacks, several thousand Muslims gathered in front of the London Central Mosque to applaud fiery preachers prophesying the overthrow of the British government -- a future vision that encompasses an Islamic takeover of the White House and the rule of the Quran over America.

"One day my dear Muslims," shouted Anjem Choudary, "Islam will govern Britain!"

Choudary was a co-founder of Al Muhajiroun, the now-banned group tied to suspects in the July 7, 2005 London transport bombings and a cheerleader of the 9/11 attacks.

"Democracy, hypocrisy," Choudary chanted as the crowd echoed him. "Tony Blair, terrorist! Tony Blair, murderer! Queen Elizabeth, go to hell!"

Email Letters & Notes

Hi Ben, How are you? Hope you and Miranda are well in Jesus . . . apologies for the extremely late email . . . been really busy. But, then, that's just an excuse because I have no excuse. I am sorry for not calling or emailing. Please also excuse "S" because she has asked me many times for your contact details, and I did not pass them on.

Things are really good here, though I can't say much for the world. The Almighty God (Jesus) has blessed us in many ways, especially me in more ways than I can think or know of. "S" is well and very happy now. The unfamiliar spirits do not bother her much because she is in our Almighty & Eternal God's care. I truly believe God wanted her to be on his side, and he used us as instruments to do his work. I'm just glad that I could be a part of it while making true friends in Christ. I know this is just the beginning and we have a very, very, very, very, very LONG way to go, but I am confident we will get there. It's our destiny.

Hopefully we will be visiting home mid next year, and I am anxious to spend time with you both if you will have us. Could I get your home address please? There is something I would like to send you.

I look forward to your reply. Truly yours in Christ our Savior. Lots of hugs and kisses to Miranda and you. God bless.

Please pray for me and my sister. Our mother recently died and I am struggling, feeling pulled to contact the spirit world. I somehow got entangled years ago in the occult. I wrote Ben Alexander and ordered his book "Out From Darkness" and burned my tarot cards and anything related to the occult. After reading his book, I gave my heart back to Jesus Christ and trusted in Him and I felt at peace again. Why am I struggling so right now?

Also, please pray for my sister's salvation. She is not a believer and hasn't ever been. She likes to read the Harry Potter series and is attracted to astrology and other occult stuff. She is hurting so much now. Please pray God fills the huge void in her life and uses the right people to talk to her and share God's love. One of her friends is a chaplain in training. God is definitely working there.

Pray, too, for me to stay strong in my faith and not give into temptation to go back to the occult. I really do love the Lord. I don't know why I am struggling so with these feelings . . . grief, I suppose.

Dear Bro. Ben, I heard you speak in Martins Ferry, Ohio quite a few years back. (I believe it was around the 1990s.) I was amazed and so taken in by you and your knowledge. I had my young son with me at the time and hoped his eyes would be open. He has since gone down the road of drugs and alcohol. But, with continuous prayer for his life, I am now seeing baby steps for his return to our wonderful Lord & Savior. The Bible tells me that if I delight myself in the Lord, He will give me the desires of my heart. Of course, those desires must be in line with His desires. I only have one desire and that is that my children/grandchildren all receive Jesus and go to heaven. I know that is in line with His desires and I hang on to the trust and belief that this will happen.

I was reading some of your letters and was totally amazed at how others like to bash Christians for not showing "love." What they are not wanting to realize is there is a difference between love and tolerance. We love them enough to share the truth and try to turn their lives around, but we do not tolerate their ignorance for living their lives for the evil one. I read the end of the book and it is wonderful to know that God wins. And all of us who follow the plan of salvation so wonderfully designed for us in His Word will win, too.

I just wanted to say thank you and may God bless you and give you strength to continue on doing His work.

Hi, this message is for Ben Alexander . . . just wanted to say that in 2002 you sent me your book "Out From Darkness." I don't know if you remember me, but I am a spiritualist medium. Since we last spoke, I've moved a few times and lost touch. I just wanted to let you know that I've never forgotten the kindness you showed in sending your book. I must admit -- I am still a spiritualist. But I do admire you for following your beliefs, and I am always amazed when I read this book. I hope you will still communicate with me. Sincerely, Bob Ben's Response: Hi, Bob. It was so good of you to email me this morning.

If you go to my web page www.espministries.com and hit resources, then scroll down to other resources "What Your Spirit Guide Doesn't Want You to Know" and "Crossing Over or Double Crossed," you may find some interesting information.

My wife and I were discussing about our decades of experience in spiritualism and never at any time did the so-called dead tell us what is happening -- except for generalities. Bob, supposing the Bible is true and you are contacting demons pretending to be dead. When you die as a spiritualist you would go to eternal torments.

Please consider that observation. I would much prefer to see you in Heaven. Sincerely, Ben

Hi. I'm sorry I just have a question. I'm sorry if this is the wrong spot to ask it. Anyway, I'm an atheist. (I hope you don't mind me looking at your page -- I was just curious.) Well, I was just wondering if I could get saved even though I've been just about every religion other than Christian. Thanks.

Oprah Winfrey

I have often watched Oprah Winfrey over the past several years; the reason, because many of her guests are prominent New Agers and Spiritualists. The Oprah Winfrey Show is the highest rated talk show in television history seen by 10-15 million viewers each day.

She is now offering a course on New Age and this is coming straight from Satan's pit. I listened to a Christian minister label her as "the most dangerous woman in the world" and I concur. I saw her recently on television and she flat outright said that Jesus is not the only way, there are thousands of other ways. Oprah Winfrey has taken over the mantle from Shirley McClaine as the celebrity evangelist for the New Age movement.

Among Oprah's many New Age guests is James Van Praagh, a Spiritualist medium who is now charging $495 for a week-end course at the Doubletree Paradise Valley resort in Scottsdale, Arizona. This does not include hotel or meals; it is strictly for the workshop only.

The email I received advertising this event, has the following information:

Connect & Communicate with the Spirit World!

Spend an entire weekend with Internationally Renowned Spiritual Medium James Van Praagh.

Have your own experience with the Spirit World and Learn from the Country's Most Renowned Spiritual Medium.

Master Spiritual Medium James Van Praagh will teach you how to:

Understand the mechanics of being a spiritual medium

Safely increase your own psychic abilities

Recognize energy fields around you and others

See, feel and communicate with the spirit world

Send and receive telepathic thought and impressions

I checked the ticket master and discovered James Van Praagh introducing people to Satan's domain will earn ninety thousand dollars for that week-end.

Occasionally I have an opportunity to speak to prominent Spiritualist mediums; but rarely lead them to Christ. The Bible tells us in 2nd Thessalonians 9-11 that these people are willing to believe a lie. I remember when I first became a Christian and discovered over a hundred scriptures showing the dangers of the occult. At the first opportunity I returned to London and went to the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain.

I spoke to Hunter Mackintosh, OBE. (He was honored by the Queen of England). He is president of the SAGB. I discussed the Bible with him and showed him how God hated Spiritualism (Deut. 18:10-13). His reply, "The Bible is full of lies" and then went on to tell me that he has contacted ministers over the other side that told him otherwise.

The good news is that we sometimes do lead prominent psychics to the Lord; a case in point is Avalon. See her picture on page 4.

My Dear Friends,

The battle rages on. We can read that in the headlines of newspapers around the world. We can hear that through the voices of those suffering. We can see that on the tortured faces of so many entangled in Satan's web of lies. There is no doubt that Satan continues his pursuit of God's chosen vessels and is relentlessly at work in our world today.

Spiritual warfare is a battle I've devoted my life to. I have three goals in mind:

1. to educate and warn people of its very real existence,

2. to enlighten those who are "playing around with it," and

3. to save those who find themselves already entangled in its nasty web.

My method of doing so has been two-fold: through the spoken word by speaking personally to groups and individuals and through the written word through books, tracts, e-mails, etc. What God has called me to do has been challenging and exhausting. Even so, I am more than willing to keep on going because He has asked me to. Fulfilling His purpose in my life is my heart's desire.

However, I need your help. Unlike me, you may not have been called to minister in such a way. Perhaps your calling is to work "behind the scenes" -- which is invaluable and just as important. There are two areas that concern me in which I'm asking you to join hands with me in ministry

1. Prayer. Oh, how vital this is. Satan has no power when the prayers of God's people are at work.

2. Financial support. Being in a ministry such as this, I must rely on your support. Without your financial backing, this ministry would have folded long ago.

I'm asking you that you please consider supporting or increasing your support of this ministry through one or both of these areas. Pray for me. Support me through your giving. Together we can continue to fight this battle and together we will win.

May our Almighty God and Heavenly Father continue to pour out His blessings upon you,

Ben

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Thank you for your prayers and support of this ministry that God has so graciously given Miranda and me. This year the Lord gave us the privilege to minister in another two countries: Switzerland and France. That brings the number up to 18 countries. We were also blessed to share the Gospel to thousands in both France and Switzerland on Radio 74, an English-speaking radio station.

I was reflecting in my quiet time that I am now into my 89th year. I am so grateful that God is still giving me strength to preach. For quite some time I feel I can identify with what the Apostle Paul said: “But whatever was to my profit I now consider loss for the sake of Christ. What is more, I consider everything a loss compared to the surpassing greatness of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, for whose sake I have lost all things. I consider them rubbish, that I may gain Christ.” (Philippians 3:7-9)

If you look into the historical background of the Philippians (4:1ff), you will see they were one of the few congregations that supported the Apostle Paul. They were far from rich, but they were generous in their giving. You, my friends, identify with the Philippians.

I am reaching a stage in life where I have no confidence in the flesh. That is why I am so anxious to be about my Father's business and want to thank you for helping me to keep on keeping on for Jesus.

God bless you and have a wonderful Christmas and a Happy New Year.

*Love in Christ,
Ben*
